Salina, Kansas

What do we plant in the Fall?

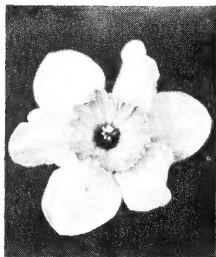

This catalog lists the items that are best planted in the Fall as well as items that may be planted either Fall or Spring. Dutch Bulbs must be planted in the Fall in order to develop and bloom next Spring. Almost all perennials can be planted in the Fall, the only exception being the Fall-blooming perennials such as Hardy Asters and Chrysanthemums. Evergreens and Broadleaved Evergreens can be planted in the Fall beginning about September 15th, or in the Spring. We do not recommend the Fall planting of Spruce in the Great Plains Region. Deciduous Trees and Shrubs cannot be dug and transplanted until we have had enough frost for the plants to become dormant; this usually occurs in November. Most Trees and Shrubs can be planted in the Fall except dormant Roses, Fruit Trees, Weeping Willow and Poplars.

BROADLEAVED EVERGREENS

Broadleaved Evergreens are a class of shrubs that retain their leaves during the winter. They are ideal to use in the foundation planting of the contemporary house because of their dwarf habit of growth and their pleasing combination with evergreens.

Euonymus patens Pictured above. This beautiful broadleaved evergreen shrub has deep green foliage and a compact habit of growth. In addition to its attractive foliage, it bears clusters of flowers in July and is magnificent with its scarlet-red berries when in full fruit in late Fall or early Winter. We grow three types as listed below. Balled and burlapped specimens. Not prepaid.

SMALL LEAF TYPE: Has smaller leaves and is more dwarf and compact. Seldom does much fruiting. Excellent for the North side of shady planting boxes. Extremely hardy.

SHADE & ORNAMENTAL TREES

When to plant: Although it is wise to place your order early, you should remember that Shade and Ornamental trees cannot be dug and transplanted until we have had enough frosts and freezing weather for them to lose their leaves and become dormant. Trees such as Weeping Willow, Poplar and Fruit Trees are best planted in the Spring, so we do not list them in the Fall.

Lawn and Garden Supplies

Horticultural Peatmoss

Valuable as a source of soil humus. Makes heavy soils more workable and helps sandy, light soils hold moisture. It prevents soil from baking and cracking during hot weather. It pays to mix peatmoss with the soil when planting Evergreens, shrubs, flowers and trees. When about $\frac{1}{2}$ inch of peatmoss is worked into the surface of an old or new lawn, it will promote a fine stand of grass that will be very resistant to burning out during the summer or freezing during the winter. Prices are not prepaid.

Kentucky Bluegrass

The proper time to plant Bluegrass is about September 10th to October 15th. It may be planted sooner if the cool and rainy weather begins early in September, but planting is safer after September 10th. Fall planting of Bluegrass is recommended because the young seedlings can develop and take advantage of the cool Fall weather and without the competition of noxious weeds. This cannot be accomplished in the Spring. Our recommended rate for Bluegrass is one pound for 200 square feet of lawn area.

Merion Bluegrass

A new super Bluegrass that spreads rapidly into a handsome, deep green, dense, compact, wear-resistant sod. Its low-growing turf requires less mowing than ordinary Bluegrass and it is more resistant to Crabgrass infestations. Adapted to full sun or partial shade. One pound plants 500 to 700 square feet.

PRICE: $4.35 PER POUND. POSTPAID.

Ra-pid-gro Fertilizer

This fertilizer comes in concentrated form and is simply mixed with water at the rate of one teaspoon to one quart of water to complete the formula for the perfect plant food. RA-PID-GRO can be fed to plants by applying as a liquid to the soil around the plants or by spraying the foliage. Also can be used as a dip in transplanting. For use on lawns, use the special lawn nozzle listed below.

Milorganite Fertilizer

Milorganite is a scientifically prepared natural and organic fertilizer and not a chemical or synthetic product. For this reason, it is long-lasting and non-burning. It does not have the "shot-in-the-arm" effect with the letdown that follows. Its organic or humus properties tend to build up the physical condition of the soil. This is opposite with many chemical fertilizers.

Milorganite is rich in long-lasting Nitrogen, the most important element needed for healthy plant growth. Besides Phosphorus and potassium, it contains liberal amounts of Iron, Magnesium and sulphur. Deficiency of these elements causes Chlorosis (sickly yellowing of the foliage of many plants, including Grass), a condition common to the soils in this region. For this and many reasons, we believe Milorganite is the best fertilizer for lawns, flowers, trees and shrubs in the Great Plains Region.
